Praise God For:

- My partners in Malawi who have done a wonderful job of training 7th and 8th graders to be tutors. The tutors have improved on their exams!
- Parents who are seeking a Biblical education for their children and making sacrifices to make that happen.

Pray For:

- My travels to Africa. I will be in Africa for about two months, working in three countries. Ghana: training a group of teachers in Literacy for Life, and creating a tutoring program for those students who are struggling with reading, comprehension, or writing. South Africa: meeting with a few people who have experience (40+ years) in establishing pre-schools in remote areas, spending time at a preschool that YWAM opened in an established refugee camp, bringing the materials we created, and offering in-person training on what the team decided are important next steps. Malawi: in Blantyre most of the time. Pray that we can put the things in place they will need in the coming school term and that more people will join us in working with these precious children.
- My travels to the Philippines to work with my teammates running our Foundations in Teaching course, which we revised to meet the needs of teachers around the world. There is a plan to train teachers from several different schools over three weeks. The team is coming together as God brings people from different nations.
- Support. All these things are exciting, strategic, and important. Please pray if God would have you financially support me so I can reach each location.
